M'CANN'S SKULL TWICE FRACTURED.

Back of Head Beaten to a Jelly; Neck Not Broken.

The autopsy held last evening on the body of John M'Cann, the victim of Sunday's drunken brawl at San Pablo avenue and Twenty-ninth street, developed the fact that death was caused by a compound fracture of the skull. The skull was broken and bruised in a frightful manner, the back of the head being beaten to a jelly.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. J. P. Dunn, representing the District Attorney's office, assisted by Drs. J. M. Kane and J. M. Milton. After completing the examination of the body, the crown of the skull was removed and will be presented in evidence at the trial. The most serious wounds were upon this portion of the head.

There were two principal fractures of the skull, one beginning on the back of the head, about half way between the right ear and the back, and running around nearly to the left eye. There was a second fracture that ran down the left side of the head under the ear. The head and body were badly bruised, showing that the dead man had been brutally beaten.

C. H. Townsend, who is charged by the witnesses of having inflicted the injuries which proved fatal, will be charged with murder regardless of the findings of the coroner's jury at the inquest tonight. Such is the statement of Chief of Police Fletcher.

Townsend has retained Col. T. F. Garrity to defend him and the attorney insisted last evening that an attempt would be made to deny the fact that Townsend struck the blow that resulted in M'Cann's death. But the fact that Townsend was acting in self defense, as so that M'Cann was the aggressor throughout the trouble.

Frank Gordon and James Kroebe who were arrested yesterday as the police were satisfied they were in no way implicated. Edward Roach and Frank Remond will be retained until after the coroner's inquest tonight.

Detectives Hodgins and Quigley were working on the case yesterday with the result that several eye witnesses to the fight were found. These are John Marcano, a grimp, and the San Pablo avenue cable line; Edgar Stone, a conductor on the same line; Dr. William S. Porter and a man who was riding with him, Walter Bligden and Earl Smith. Two boys, Earl San and another, were taken to the detectives in the following language:

"There was one man fighting another in a drug store on San Pablo avenue. The man who was fighting was M'Cann. One man got another down and was beating and kicking him, and he was hitting him with a bottle. A man tried to make him stop, but he hit him. Then the man who was fighting M'Cann came out and made him stop beating the other fellow, and she talked to them a little while and got them to go away. Then the man in the gutter got up, and started on the man who had beaten him. The man who had beaten him was ready and he seemed drunk. He shouted after the other, 'I'll kill you,' and he staggered along taking his coat off. That seemed to make the man who had beaten him and one of them came back. The man on whom M'Cann had been beaten was making his coat off, but his hands were still in the sleeves and he couldn't use them. The other man came up to him and hit him a big swing and hit him under the ear on the neck. The man dropped and his head hit the sidewalk so hard that it could be heard all over."

BAPTIZED AND THEN SUICIDED.

How Horace Garcelon Prepared For Eternity.

Horace Garcelon, formerly a bookkeeper in the employ of Levi Strauss & Co., San Francisco, whose residence had been at 1555 Railroad avenue, Alameda, left this morning yesterday for the suicide route. His remains were found in his room with a ghastly hole in the head, through which the brains made his appearance. A revolver lay beside him and the bed upon which the body lay was saturated with blood. The weapon contained two loaded chambers and three empty ones. Two of the shots which had been fired had missed their mark, the bullets being found in various places in the walls of the chamber. The shot which robbed the man of life entered the head slightly above the right ear.

Shortly prior to his desperate deed Garcelon had received letters from the Methodist Church South of Alameda by Rev. J. Hammond, pastor of the society. Garcelon called on the clergyman and stated that he wanted to be baptized and received into the church.

The pastor decided to have the reception deferred until Sunday next. Garcelon, however, insisted on the immediate performance of the rite and the pastor complied, and Garcelon was given the right hand of fellowship with no witnesses of the event save the pastor and himself. Garcelon then went home to his death. Whether Garcelon felt that membership in the church would entitle him to bliss in the other world even though he had taken his own life, or whether he acted under the influence of temporary mental aberration when he killed himself is not known.

Garcelon had been suffering a great deal from illness for some time and it is evident that this caused him a great deal of anguish.

The deceased was 45 years of age and resided at the number given above with his mother, Mrs. Sarah Garcelon, and his daughter, Edith Garcelon.

The body was removed to the morgue. The inquest will be held at the scene of the tragedy.

NEW PASTORS TO SAVE SOULS.

Graduates From the Theological Seminary.

The graduating exercises of the Pacific Theological Seminary took place this morning at the institution on New Broadway and attracted a large number of friends of the institution.

The exercises were held in the chapel of the seminary, which was simply but tastefully adorned with flowers and palms in honor of the occasion.

They were presided over by Rev. Dr. J. K. McLean, president of the institution. There were some devotional hymns, after which Rev. George B. Hatch, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Berkeley delivered an address on the subject of "Personality of the Preacher."

The speaker spoke about the advantages of learning, the necessity of prayer and duty in ministers and claimed that with these there should be a child, the personality of the individual, which, if carefully cultivated, would tend to make more impressive his work in the service of the Lord.

Diplomas were given to the graduates, two in number. One of these was Rev. P. C. Crause, who for some time has been serving the pulpit in the church at Pittsburg, in this county, and who has just been called to Washington State, for which place he leaves immediately.

The other graduate was Charles K. Takeda, a Japanese, who will go to Yale College, where he will take a post graduate course of two years, after which he will return to labor among his own people in the land of his birth.

LYNCHED BY A MOB OF NEGROES.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KANSAS CITY, April 25.—A special to the Star from Galena, Kas., says: Charles Williams, alias Jones (colored), was shot to death at 10:30 this morning in the city jail by a mob of negroes. Williams killed Laura Canafax, a negro, yesterday.

The mob, composed of about twenty-five masked negroes, went to jail and found an entrance by breaking the door in. The first man had an ax, the second a rope, and a third carried a pistol. Williams was locked in his cell, but they lost no time in breaking the lock and ordered him to come out. This he refused to do, claiming that he was innocent of the charge. He gave a couple of bricks and asked them to only give him a fair show.

At this the man who carried the revolver began shooting through the bars at Williams. Four shots took effect, killing him. The mob then went to the work of the mob was systematically and coolly done. They came quietly, did their work and dispersed without any demonstration. The coroner's inquest today held that Williams came to his death from the effects of blows and shots from an unknown person. No arrests have been made.

NATIVES FLOCK INTO SALINAS.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SALINAS, Cal., April 25.—Exkurs trains from Watsonville, Santa Cruz and San Luis Obispo arrived this morning crowded with pleasure seekers and members of various orders who were to take part in the grand parade of the Native Sons, but hardly had preparations for the same been arranged when the rain began descending in torrents, and the parade was declared postponed until Thursday.

It is estimated that nearly 3,000 strangers have flocked into Salinas since seven o'clock today.

The Grand Parlor is taking advantage of the rain and has been in session all the morning. The principal work done was the action being taken upon the Grand President's rulings, after which the question concerning the instituting of a prior order among the students at the State University was brought up. This led to an animated discussion, there being a great deal of discussion on the proposition. When the parlor took a recess at noon no conclusion had been reached.

A great amount of electioneering is being done by members over candidates for the grand trusteeship, the bitterest fight being over Frank Sablot and C. Belman delegates from rival parties in Los Angeles.

If the rain continues with the prospect of an all-day fall, there will be an afternoon session to allow of work being accomplished so as not to interfere with the parade on Thursday.

On motion of Grand Secretary Henry Lunstedt, just before the noon adjournment, the following resolution was passed unanimously:

"Resolved, That the celebration day of the year 1900 be held in the city of San Francisco, and further that the parlor of the jurisdiction of San Francisco are hereby requested to appoint a joint committee upon the occasion of the first meeting of the parlor in the month of July, 1899, the said joint committee to meet and organize on the 15th day of July."

MRS. GEORGE'S LAWYER HEARD.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CANTON, Ohio, April 25.—At the opening of the court in the George trial today Attorney D. Sterling began the opening address in defense of Mrs. George. Mr. Sterling disputed the testimony of the State that the testimony as to Mrs. George's grievances against Saxton could only be considered in connection with a confession and then only in determining the degree of the crime. He said the wrongs of the accused were offered, and should be accepted as showing the circumstances and conditions surrounding the threats which were sought to be proved she had made.

Citing authorities on the legal proposition it involved, Mr. Sterling presented quotations from a number of medical text books in support of the request for a charge to the jury on the option of morphia habit, and then briefly referred to the testimony. Mr. Sterling paid his respect to Saxton and others, concluding with the case. He represented Saxton in the most unenviable light, and dwelt upon the alleged wrecking of the George home.

This occupied the time until the noon adjournment. The present indications are that the judge's charge cannot be delivered before late tomorrow or Thursday morning.

BROUGHT CHARGE WITHOUT EVIDENCE.

J. Mueller was dismissed by Justice Lurie yesterday on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon preferred by Alfred Stevenson. When the case was called for trial the District Attorney's office was represented by George Sumada and Phil Walsh. It was shown that there was no evidence to support the charge. Attorney Sumada asked that the case be dismissed and that the complaining witness be taxed for the costs of the trial. Justice Lurie granted the dismissal but did not see fit to tax Stevenson for the costs.

It was brought out at the trial that Mueller put his hand in his back pocket during an altercation with Stevenson over the alleged passing of some counterfeit money.

WOMAN SPEAKS FOR FABIOLA HOSPITAL.

Editor Tribune: The protests of the ministers relative to Fabiola's receiving the proceeds of a day of racing, suggests the thought, why would it not be a good idea for the ministers of Alameda county to at least our own minister in Oakland, to appoint a Fabiola Day in the churches, the collections of which would be for the benefit of Fabiola Hospital.

I am not one of the directors, but am thoroughly cognizant of the good work done by the hospital and know that, although Fabiola cures for a great many free cases, there are many others for whom she would like to cure but finds it impossible, because her bills, like those of an individual, must be paid.

NEVEZ' DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

An inquest was held last evening on the remains of Joseph Nevez, the longshoreman killed Saturday above the brick house on Long Wharf. The testimony of eye witnesses was that while a heavy piece of machinery was being lowered into the hold a guy rope broke, making considerable noise. Nevez evidently frightened by the noise sprang to one side, bumping into the man who was pulling out the hauling rope over the drum of the derrick engine causing this man to lose his hold upon the rope which was paying out rapidly as the machinery fell into the hold. His body was hurled against a tank and then carried aloft until it reached a block where one leg was cut off and the body then dropped into the water. The verdict of the jury was that death was accidental.

PRICE IS SENT TO AN ASYLUM.

Charles H. Price was ordered committed to an insane asylum by Judge Hall this morning.

Price's mental derangement started four days ago. He had been suffering for some time, however, from spinal trouble. This, in connection with financial worry, is supposed to have caused his mind to fail.

At the Receiving Hospital Price refused to eat anything, saying that he was going to heaven and would not need any food. He was very despondent and refused to recognize his wife. He would not talk to the Lunacy Commission.

Price is 47 years of age. He was formerly a clerk in Los Angeles, but came to San Francisco for his health. A few days ago he came to this city with his wife. He then disappeared and was never heard from until he was arrested in Alameda on the charge of insanity.

Mrs. Price objected to having her husband sent to an asylum, but as she had no money and him to a private sanitarium she had to submit.

MUST BID AGAIN FOR THE PROPERTY.

Judge Hall has refused to confirm the sale of the property of the late Mrs. Salome Anderson to J. B. Merritt for $5,000. The property was appraised at $12,000. When it was advertised for sale the two highest bidders were Merritt, who is the father-in-law of J. C. Robinson, attorney for the estate, and J. A. Johnson. The latter bid was $7,000. He objected to having Merritt's bid accepted on the ground that he had waived until all the bids were in and then filed his bid after the bids were closed. Judge Hall ordered the property re-advertised for bids.

TRIBUNE EMPLOYEES TO HAVE AN OUTING

This is the season when people's minds turn to green fields, wooded hills, wild flowers and rural delights and The Tribune proposes to give its employees a fitting rest Sunday that is out of the ordinary run of events. It is a custom that has prevailed with the big daily newspapers of the Eastern States for several years, but it is seldom that a western newspaper has had the enterprise to carry out such an undertaking. The Tribune has made many marked improvements in its general appearance and in its now facilities during the past year. Its employees have taken an unusual interest in the enterprise and the management believes that some mark of appreciation on its part will stimulate those employees renewed efforts in its behalf. Last Sunday the North Pacific Coast Railroad paid its summer time absolute first effect on its picturesque route from Sausalito around the base of Mt. Tamalpais to the town over hills and vales to Cazza, including the inauguration of popular excursions every Sunday via the 8 A. M. Sausalito ferry to Camp Taylor, which required to be on the of the most charming localities on the route. This place has been selected by The Tribune for its "campers' outing" and the paper will publish a list of the names of the children who will take this trip, which embraces the winding river above White's Hill with its double horse shoe bends and some of the prettiest views to be had from a railroad car in California. The children will be provided with basket lunches on the occasion and the boys who prefer to go to dinner at the hotel at Camp Taylor. The committee has been appointed which will have charge of preparing the picnic and the boys will be expected to have the bowling alley at their disposal free of charge and the children will enjoy the swings and romp through the woods without restraint. Their bathing suits, swimming trunks and their bathing suits and good line generally is assured.

While the Tribune proposes to provide for its employees exclusively their friends and the public generally who want to participate may procure tickets for the excursion at the Sausalito ferry on Sunday morning. The boat starts at 9 o'clock sharp, so that an early start will have to be made from Oakland to make the connection.

"Dan," replied Moore.

There could not be any mistake in the man, as the officers from Nevada City have known the fellow for the past 20 years. Gatchell asked Moore what he was doing here, and Moore replied that he did not know, nor could he tell how he got there.

Afterward the articles taken from Moore were shown the officers. The deputy asked if there was a gold ring with a hair setting among the articles. This was shown him. He said there was no doubt about the capture, as he had known Dan to wear the ring as long as it was good.

NEW OFFICES FOR A GROWING FIRM

On May 1st Belden & Cook, the installment home builders and real estate brokers who have been located on Broadway between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets for the past two years, will remove to the southeast corner of Washington and Twelfth streets, where handsome and commodious offices are now being fitted up for their occupancy.

The firm was organized two years ago and has, in the short period of its existence, built up a name of integrity upon which all its dealings have been conducted, won an enviable place in the financial and business circles of this city and vicinity, and is now regarded as the largest firm in its line. Larger and more comfortable quarters were needed to accommodate the large and growing clientele and the increasing volume of its business, and the requirements will be fully met in the new location, which is one of the most prominent corners in the business center. It will be completely and thoroughly equipped and an efficient staff maintained.

TUESDAY, APRIL 25, 1899.

It may have been a billion dollar Congress, but the country is keeping up with the procession. The total value of our exports last year reached the record-breaking total of $1,200,000,000.

Salinas is giving a good proof of her enterprise and up-to-date methods in the welcome who is according the Native Sons. It is surprising that so large a time can be had in so small a town.

Arkansas is going to build a new State capital upon the site of her present penitentiary, whereupon an exchange suggests that it might as well let the penitentiary stand and just move the legislators in.

Bryan is in trouble with the Southern Democrats because several colored men were allowed to participate in his dollar banquet. With the East and South against him and the West by no means enthusiastic in his behalf, it is easy to see where he is going to land as regards the Presidential nomination.

William Murdoch's notes and those of Calve, the opera singer, both come very high, $100,000 being at stake in each instance. Calve declines to sing for less than $150 a night, and if she comes West this year she is to have a guarantee of $50,000 as an inducement. The Pacific Coast has evidently passed out of the "jay town" epoch entirely.

CALIFORNIA'S NEW BRIGADEER

California has been illegally treated by President McKinley as regards the meeting out of places of honor to her volunteer soldiers, two Brigadier-Generals having been awarded here since the war began. The first went to Col. H. G. Otis of Los Angeles, and was a tribute to both to the hard work he had done for the party and his military ability as proved to McKinley when the two men fought in the civil war side by side. The second has gone to Colonel James Smith of the First Regiment, N. G. C., and is a gracious acknowledgment of his valor on the field and the executive skill with which he has handled his command during the trying times of the insurgent campaign.

It may probably not be generally known that the First Regiment of California was the first to be mustered in of the whole of the volunteer army. The Governor of Colorado endeavored to obtain that honor for his men by dating their commissions back several days, but the fact remains, nevertheless, that the California boys were the first to take the field. This, therefore, placed Colonel Smith at the head of the list of volunteer commanders and secured his early promotion whenever rewards were distributed. His nomination as Brigadier at this time, though, is said to be the best indication possible that the regiment is to be mustered out, as it is the custom to promote volunteer officers as soon as that contingency arises, so that they may retire with all the glory possible.

In Smith's case, however, new possibilities are created, for it is understood that he will make a vigorous effort to be transferred to the regular service. During the past few months his name has been frequently mentioned for gubernatorial honors and for Mayor of San Francisco, while it will be recalled that during the last session of the Legislature he received the complimentary vote for United States Senator on several occasions.

In response to communications from friends, though, regarding his plans, he has said that instead of desiring political honors he would prefer that all the energies be exerted to obtain his transfer to the regular service, so he is evidently enamored with a military career.

It does not seem improbable that he will yet realize his ambitions, for with a fight for re-nomination so near, the President will be certain to heed the cry that comes from the West. It will be united, too, in Smith's case, for State pride and patriotism are linked in his behalf, and the fact that he is a Democrat will be forgotten, even by the most rabid Republicans, when it comes to honoring one who has drawn his sword to uphold the glory of the State.

THE SELECTION OF A SENATOR.

Although the report of the nomination of Colonel D. M. Burns for the United States Senate has not been confirmed by the Governor in so many words, the position he has taken regarding those who seek to interview him on the subject makes it comparatively certain that he was not misquoted in the declaration attributed to him. From the inception of the recent Senatorial campaign it was evident that the Governor's heart was in the Burns fight, for although, for political reasons, he did not make any positive stand on the issue, all his words and actions showed which way his sympathies were bent.

It was but natural that such should be the case. Colonel Burns was mainly instrumental in the splendid fight made, first for Gage's nomination and then at the polls in his behalf and the Governor, is the last man in the world to forget those who have taken off their coats and worked in his interests. Then again, Colonel Burns had claims for the position that even his most bitter enemies could not with justice deny, for he has for years past been in the van of the Republican hosts when political battles were on and to his shrewd generalship and personal activity a great many of the party successes have been due.

Under these circumstances it is but natural that the Governor should take the action now credited to him and place in Colonel Burns' possession the honors that were denied him at the legislative session through the machinations of a hostile clique of envious politicians. The question of all-absorbing interest that now results, therefore, is what are the possibilities that the action of the Governor will be upheld?

That they are most encouraging must be conceded when the situation is thoroughly reviewed. Only today the dispatches announce that Senator Quay made a canvass of the Senate before it adjourned last month and secured the pledges of a majority of the seventy-four hold-over Senators to vote for his seating if he returned with a Governor's appointment instead of a certificate of election. This, therefore, would leave him needing but six votes of the Senators returned this winter.

Quay will of course be allowed to bear the brunt of the battle in the new test case that will be made, for he is better qualified to do so than any one else. He is a man of strong personal friendships and powerful political ties and the influences behind him will secure the victory if there is any way of accomplishing it. It is significant, too, that among those who are said to be pledged to vote for seating him are many who were against Corbett when he was making his fight and this is accounted for both because Corbett was a stranger at the Capital and because he was bitterly opposed by a number of powerful corporation interests.

Another important point to be considered is that the Republicans are in a position to organize the next Senate, something they have not been able to do for many years. When Corbett was refused a seat the Populists and Democrats held the balance of power against the Republicans, whereas the reverse will be the case now. As for the point that the Senate would not be likely to reverse itself so soon, that need not be given second thought for it is bound by no precedent and decides each matter before it by the circumstances attending it.

In view of these facts, therefore, it must be conceded that the prospects for Quay's success are very bright and if he is seated it is of course certain that the appointments from the other deadlocked States will also be recognized. Governor Gage is therefore to be commended for having taken a stand that will secure California her full representation in the upper branch of Congress at a time like this when so much legislation fraught with vital interest to the Pacific Coast is before the country.

The color line in the South appears to consist of a piece of rope. The latest lynchings in Georgia are simply diabolical outrages, and the whites practically deserve whatever vengeance may come from the race war that is threatened by the negroes there. The laws are dead letters as far as protecting the colored people is concerned, for even if arrests are made juries refuse to convict, no matter how glaring the testimony may be. Something serious is therefore bound to result there ere long.

Those who were interested in the passage of the anti-curtain and the newspaper signature laws are being given every opportunity in the world to avail themselves of those measures. The San Francisco dailies are endeavoring to force the fighting by defying the laws in the boldest manner imaginable, none of the articles being signed and more glaring cautions than ever being published. Nobody seems anxious, though, to step into the arena and pick up the gauntlet.

Captain Coghlan of the Raleigh is the latest official to realize that it pays to do more thinking than talking when subjects of international interest have the floor. Our Government is right, too, in not allowing public insults to be cast at the Kaiser, especially in view of the liberal-mindedness he has shown during the recent complications. The cashiering of Coghlan may, therefore, be necessary from a diplomatic standpoint if it does not come otherwise.

The ambulance Tuesday in the Philippines whereby so many of our brave boys lost their lives shows the kind of warfare that is to wage henceforth until the revolt is finally quieted. The rebels have had all they want in the line of fighting in the open and have now resorted to what may be termed Apache tactics. It is evident that as long as Aguinaldo is at large peace will be impossible, so the sooner he is rounded up the better.

The wonderful lack of accommodations in the City Hall is again illustrated in the vain efforts to find quarters there for all the officials. Oakland should certainly bestir herself in some way on this City Hall proposition. Why not have a fine municipal building as well as one for the Federal business? The present arrangements do not speak well for our enterprise.

The editors of Blue and Gold should feel thankful to the faculty for having blacklisted it. Never before was there so great a demand for the college annual, for no better advertisement could be conceived than the wrath of the professors at the way they have been criticized and lampooned.

"And next I will become ambitious to get rich, so that I won't have to work at all."
"Naturally."

"Well, what's the use of taking such a roundabout way of getting just where I started?" "I don't have to work now."

The Needs of a Growing City.

T. L. Barker Tells How the City What He Would Do Can Forge Ahead.

By T. L. BARKER.

What is the present status of Oakland and what should be done to further its interests? The ideas of T. L. Barker on this subject are as follows:

"For years previous to 1891 Oakland was prosperous. There had been a steady progress for ten years. From that time down to the election of the present Mayor and Council the people of the city seem to have been antagonistic toward all aggregate capital and through their officials seem to have endeavored to prevent men of means and corporations from coming here. They have been vicious toward the railroad and have thrown obstructions in its way.

"During the railroad strike the city was allowed to be fenced in. Travel from the city was practically stopped. The city officials, whose duty it was to preserve peace and keep order, made no effort in that line. That inaction drove many people from the city and also much work that the railroad would have brought. It prevented people from coming here because there did not seem to be any city government to preserve peace and protect citizens.

"It was not so in Alameda. That city kept travel open without trouble. San Jose did the same. The police of this city could have kept travel open if they had been instructed to do so, but they were not so instructed.

"I believe the fact that there was no action did more to retard the growth of the city than any one thought at the time.

"The water front suit, at a cost of $75,000 or more, and the end is not yet, was another mistake. The ground of this suit was covered by another suit which was in progress at the time it was brought. It would not have cost the city more than $5,000 or $10,000 to have carried both suits under the same title. There are plenty of good attorneys who will say the same. This would have saved an expense of from $50,000 to $75,000. On its face it was unreasonable to expect, after the city had recognized the right of the Railroad Company to the land, after the company had been assessed and paid taxes on the property for forty years, that the city could go into court and say that it owned the property.

"Now, what we ought to do is to treat all railroads, capitalists, corporations and aggregated corporations fairly and not give them notice that if they come here we will clutch them. We should throw no obstruction in the way of any of them.

"I believe that now we have a better city government than we have had for years. The Mayor completely understands the business and seems to be starting in the right direction.

"I believe the amending the charter and bringing the police and fire departments back into politics was one of the greatest mistakes made in the past. I hope the present Board of Public Works will not engage in party politics in the police and fire departments. Men who are competent should be retained in office.

"Our present Council is, in my opinion, such that no member or any number of members will not discredit the city by speech or action and that they will treat each other in a gentlemanly manner.

"Even though they should fail to do so, I believe the newspapers should not make a handle of the fact to publish it to the people all over the Pacific Coast.

"Our city expenses have been increasing more rapidly than they should in proportion to the population. They should be reduced.

"What would I do if I were Mayor of Oakland? I would do just what Mayor Snow is apparently trying to do. I would radically cut all expenses down to where they ought to be; put them back in proportion to the population as they were years ago. If Mayor Snow could have his own way the city would be better governed at three-fourths of the present expense. He knows exactly where the leaks are and have been. If he had his own way he could make the cut without any detriment to the city.

"This would put the city in a position to have a good name all over the State instead of the bad one it has now.

"For improvements I should advocate the securing of Adams' Point for a park, because that would settle the park question and keep us from running into a big expense for some park outside. Adams' Point is the only practicable spot, because it is right on the lake. I do not believe in experimenting on parks outside the city.

"From time to time there has been a great cry for better sewerage. Experts from the East have been brought out here to solve the problem. The fact is that this is one of the best sewer cities in the United States. In my opinion it is almost perfectly solved, although such is not the general belief. There are very few houses that do not have an excellent connection with either the main sewer or some near outlet. The main sewer is flushed twice a day and could not well be kept in better condition.

"To sum up, let Oakland get its taxes down and go along in a quiet way. Keep down the assessments and the obstructions from the way of capital and Oakland will prosper rapidly. There are a number of other matters which might be bettered but they cannot all be attended to at once."

The Engineer and His Engine.

(From the New York Times of April 18th.)

In discussing the practice, recently adopted by the Santa Fe and the Burlington Railways, of keeping their locomotives in continuous use, day and night, until it becomes necessary to send them to the repair shop, Mr. Henry Chittenden of the Oakland (Cal.) Tribune makes a most interesting suggestion. The innovation, he says, transcends the strictly mechanical realm, and, trenching on the domain of morals, may properly be criticized even by those destitute of expert knowledge of railways and machinery. Against the obvious advantage of deriving a constant return of work performed from the large sum of money invested in locomotives, Mr. Chittenden balances the possible—he calls it probable—loss to result from the inevitable decrease of personal interest on the part of the engineer in individual engines. This is certainly worth considering. It is well known that locomotive engineers develop a feeling little if any different from affection for their locomotives, and not only so, but they are often so attached to them that they will, for a jaded dislike for yielding to another the right of command over an engine with which they have been long associated. Under the new rule this sentiment, of course, will disappear. Each engineer will have the same no regard for each engine, and so the poetry of the craft will give place to the more or less dreary commonplace of ordinary toil. Whether or not this will have its effect, and an unfortunate one, on the safety of rail-way travel is a question much more easily raised than decided. Mr. Chittenden is inclined to be apprehensive, but perhaps he is mistaken in assuming that the officials by whom the change in method was made have not reflected on the consequence of it, as well as others. Undoubtedly it was brought to their attention. In one form or another, by the engineers themselves.

Exciting Search for a Defendant.

A Constantine, who was arrested in 1897 for selling lottery tickets and fined $300 or one hundred days by Judge Allen, was surrendered by his bondsmen this morning and will now serve out his sentence in the City Prison.

Constantine was sentenced on February 23, 1897. He appealed to the Superior Court and was released on bonds with Hugh S. Aldrich and Fred Kuhnle as sureties. When the case came up in the Superior Court Wednesday the judge of the lower court was sustained.

Aldrich informed the court that to the best of his belief Constantine had gone to the Klondike and had died there.

The court ordered that defendant be produced in court on Wednesday or his bonds would be declared forfeited.

He prospect of losing that $200 secured Aldrich to do a little detective work, and with the aid of Sergeant Green he located a man Saturday who told them where their man could be found pursuing the vocation of a fisherman.

Accompanied by Officer Curtis, Aldrich hired a gasoline launch and spent Sunday morning in search for their man, finally locating him near Black Diamond, Contra Costa county.

When Constantine learned their errand he was willing to come back, stating that he supposed the case had been dropped. He had $30 when arrested, which he turned over to Aldrich to reimburse him for the expense of locating him.

When arrested on the charge of selling lottery tickets, Constantine kept a little cigar store on San Pablo avenue.

FINE POINTS IN LAW CASE.

When a Steamer Can Be Sued in the State Courts.

In February of this year the Oakland Iron Works through its attorney commenced an "action in Rem" against the steamer Alpha, her tackle, apparel and furniture, and caused the steamer to be seized on a libel issued out of the Superior Court for a balance of $5,000.80 due for building her boilers and engines, which work was done in this city.

This is a very unusual proceeding in the State courts and is the only action of this kind that has ever been filed in this county. The J. S. Kimball Company, the owner of the steamer, filed a demurrer to the complaint and raised the point that the Superior Court had no jurisdiction of the subject matter of the action nor over the party sued. Also that the J. S. Kimball Company was improperly joined as defendants. That the United States District Court had exclusive jurisdiction over actions in Rem against vessels and that the Superior Courts had no jurisdiction whatever.

The demurrer was argued by Wickliffe Matthews for the plaintiff and Charles E. Wilson for the defendants, and then elaborately briefed by both. It was contended by plaintiff that there was only one instance in which the State courts had jurisdiction and the United States courts had not and that was for the building and original equipment of a boat. That these were non-maritime liens, and District Courts of the United States and of the Supreme Court of the United States, and admitted that for any other claim against a steamer the lien would be maritime and only the United States Court would have jurisdiction.

Judge Ogden agreed with these contentions and overruled the defendants' demurrer and ordered defendants to answer in ten days.

Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Only the other day the newspapers told the story of a plucky woman who saved her husband from drowning on the rock bound Atlantic coast. There are other dangers beside that of drowning from which a few women may, by a little diplomacy, save her husband. Men are proverbially reckless about their health. They do not think it worth while to pay any heed to a slight indisposition, a trifling bilious attack, a little nervousness or sleeplessness, or a small loss of appetite. The first they know they have dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism, nervous prostration or deadly consumption. Even then they are prone to neglect their trouble until it is too late.

A wise wife will assume guardianship of her husband's health. She will always have at hand a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When her husband feels out of sorts she will see that he takes it. It makes the appetite keen, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and the nerves steady. It builds firm flesh, strong muscles, and healthy nerve tissues. It cures dyspepsia, liver complaint, malaria, rheumatism, and nervous prostration. It cures 95 per cent. of all cases of consumption. An honest dealer will always give you what you ask for.

"I was a sufferer from malaria," writes Mr. R. D. Hill, of Zanesville, Ohio. "Two doctors failed to cure me. I took three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in connection with his Pleasant Pellets, and was cured. I can now do as good a day's work as any man."

Constipation often causes sickness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two mild cathartics. They never gripe. They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, in little vials. Druggists sell them, and have nothing so just as good. They regulate the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

The Words of Friends are Genuine and Reliable.

It is easy for people to talk about themselves and state what they may have done, but it is far better to have other people speak for you. The words which follow are the frank expressions of people who know of what they speak.

Mr. John K. Chase, Amesbury, Massachusetts, says: "For some six years past my wife has been suffering from nervous prostration. For years she was troubled with insomnia and nothing recommended by the most eminent physicians would induce sleep. Under the advice of physicians she recently tried Duffy's Malt Whiskey in small quantities and with the most satisfactory results. While Mrs. Chase has always been staunch in her temperance principles and consistent in practice, she has no hesitation in recommending to invalids who need a gentle stimulant Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey." "I have used Duffy's Malt Whiskey for the past two years, having suffered from severe headaches and nervous prostration. I have been very much relieved by the use of the whiskey and have gained seventeen pounds in weight." The above statements speak for themselves.

THE CLAIMS OF SOME CLERKS.

Bills Must Be Put in by the Employees Themselves.

At the session of the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon a communication was read from M. W. Willis of the Hotel Savana asking the Board to look into a case of destitution of a woman at that hotel whose name the writer did not give. Willis stated that the family of the woman "are in the swim" in this city. The matter was referred to Supervisor Church.

The application of J. McKail of 318 Sixth street, 35 years of age, one child, was referred to Supervisor Church. District Attorney Allen gave an opinion that the claim of Recorder Grim for $225 for wages for services of Joseph Bardellini $75, C. E. Binsie $75, Alice Hawkins $75, Hertha M. Lawrence $75, should be presented by the several clerks and that it would then become the duty of the Board to pass upon the necessity of the services.

Supervisor Roth stated that the District Attorney had indicated that the members of the Board to send the report of the indices so as to have the information before the committee to be referred to the State authorities.

The Board then adjourned till next Tuesday at 10 A. M.

WIEGMAN MUST AMEND COMPLAINT.

Judge Ogden this morning sustained a demurrer in the action of William Wiegman to recover his interest in a store in Alameda from George Beebe and others. The grounds of the demurrer, as presented by Attorney Thomas A. Husley, was that the complaint alleged that the deed of the property had been secured by force, fraud and persuasion. If it was secured by force of fraud, he contended it could not have been secured by persuasion and vice versa.

The court held that the ground was valid and gave the plaintiff ten days to amend his complaint. The complaint alleges that Wiegman deeded his interest in a store in Alameda, valued at $10,000, to his cousin, while he was temporarily weakened in mind. He is represented by attorneys Z. N. Goldsby and Reed & Nussbaum.

Legal Briefs. The will of Jane Kiley, deceased, has been admitted to probate and letters granted to James G. Maguire.

LYNCHINGS WILL RUIN THE SOUTH

The Georgia Horror a Portent of Moral Death.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire. NEW YORK, April 25.—Rev. Horace Bushnell, president of the Atlanta University of Atlanta, Ga., when interviewed in regard to the lynchings in that State, said:

"In common with all law-abiding Americans I cannot but deplore the horrible transactions of the last day or two in my adopted State of Georgia.

"Awful as is the injustice of such dealings with the negro race, their results will be more terrible in their effect on the white race in undermining all respect for law and order.

"If only the number of such men can be increased in the South, that such a man as Governor Atkinson should boldly endeavor to stem the tide of wrong and should declare his willingness to testify against the wrong-doers.

DEPLORES LYNCHING.

NEW YORK, April 25.—W. A. Barber, ex-Attorney-General of South Carolina, who has just returned from Lake City, S. C., where he was Prosecuting Attorney for the Government in the trial of the lynchings of Postmaster Baker, says:

"I believe in the lynching of negroes confessedly guilty of criminal assault. It is the only protection of the women of the South, especially in the rural districts. Otherwise I am opposed to lynching.

"I feel sorry for the South that this war is upon us. It affects us all over the world. It robs us of material property and of the high moral and social position to which we are entitled. It ruins the worth of our investments.

"If it is not stopped, then shut the schoolhouses, burn the books, tear down the churches, and admit to the world that Anglo-Saxon civilization is a failure."

INGERSOLL'S DENUNCIATION. NEW YORK, April 25.—Colonel Robert C. Ingersoll says of the lynchings in Georgia:

"I suppose these outrages—these frightful crimes—make the same impression on my mind that they do on the minds of all civilized men. I know of no words strong enough, bitter enough, to express my indignation.

"These horrors were perpetrated in the name of justice. The savages who did these things belong to the superior race. They are citizens of the great republic, and yet it does not seem possible that such fiends are human beings. They are a disgrace to our country and the human race.

"Let me say that what I have said is not a comparison with what is said. When I think of the other lynchings—the poor man mutilated and hanged without the slightest evidence, of the negro who said these murders would be avenged, and was brutally murdered for the utterance of a natural feeling—I am utterly at loss for words.

"Are the white people insane? Has mercy fled to the British beast? Has the United States no power to protect a citizen? A nation that cannot protect its citizens so as to have the information before the committee to be referred to the State authorities.

NEGRO MINISTERS' VIEWS. NEW YORK, April 25.—The colored ministers of New York city, at a meeting in St. Mark's M. E. church, passed resolutions denouncing the Georgia lynchings.

Rev. William H. Brooks of St. Mark's church was among the speakers. "We have no sympathy," he said, "with the crime charged against the negroes throughout the South, but whatever the crime we believe there is sufficient law to protect them until the trial comes. We hope and trust the secular and religious papers and pulpits will give their aid and throw their influence on the side of right."

Rev. P. R. Tompkins, pastor of St. James Presbyterian Church, said: "I would rather be a Filipino and be under the Spanish yoke than under the law and order now practiced in Georgia."
